Warm greetings in Jesus!

It's been raining here for so long – between bouts of sunshine – that we have gotten used to the changes – a few hours of sun in the morning and then comes the rain!

The work is progressing, the children are all well and enjoying school. The first term examinations have begun – by the 24th they will be over and done with. We would like the children to take their exams more seriously than they are doing now. That's our concern. I think they've a lot more potential that they're just not exploring. Once they start putting in harder work they are going to enjoy the many benefits.

We are pleased to inform you that our boy Lama Wangchu has been selected for the Nilgiris district level Under 14 football team. Over a period of time he felt his body become weak because of a chest cold (from early morning practices). One night he felt his chest hurt excessively and needed medical attention. We had to take him to a private nursing home for treatment. He is well now and enjoying his school work and football again.

Kamala, who was assisting us at Mizpah, left on the 23rd of August to be married. She and is now living in her husband's home in Erode. We are prayerfully looking for a replacement for her. We want to be careful in choosing whom to appoint in her place. The children are all doing their bit to make for a happy home.

Our Padri Rev. Jerome has donated a small bake oven to Mizpah. He felt we could make good use of it here. I am discovering its uses, while the children are enjoying the benefits – but as you know, my strengths do not lie in the kitchen!

We try to keep up with what is happening in Orissa by way of the news on TV, but the half has never been told. From what we hear from our friends there, the situation is pretty bad. One of two things is about to happen – the Lord will come and redeem his church, or India is on the verge of a revival.

Either way it's good news, but to walk in the valley of the shadow of death until then is pretty hard – especially for the children. The Christians need deliverance from the mighty forces of evil.

We shall continue to keep you in prayer. We look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your encouragement and support which help us keep pressing on to higher standards.
